

GROUP 3: ASSETS WORTH MORE THAN $2,200

Workshop 3: Our Choices

Beatrice and Sony

Both Beatrice and I are victims of the war in Northern Uganda in 2006. We both lost a leg after stepping on land mines in 2002. Beatrice has an artificial limb but unfortunately I have outgrown my original prosthetic. I try not to let this hold me back and use a crutch to move around. I work up at my grandmother’s farm in the summer and even the woodwork shop to do carpentry.

See Beatrice and Sony’s video here

“Disability does not mean inability. There are many cases where children with disabilities are excluded but we feel like we can live ordinary lives as long as our difference is accepted.”

Uganda?

What impact does war have on children?

What children’s rights are violated by war?

‘Disability does not mean inability’- explore this statement.
